Suzanne “Zan” Jamieson stated she has lived in Winters for 4 years and has a daughter who goes to school at WISD and would like to be more involved in the community, help our city grow and to give kids something to come back to. She works for Health Care Service Corp. as a Process Consultant, has had no convictions and has no relatives working for the city. When asked about the social media backlash and how she would handle it she stated she does not engage. When asked if she could be objective and unbiased regarding things pertaining to the WPD, as she rents from Chief Geyer and is a friend, she responded that what is good for the city would come first and had no issue being objective or unbiased.

Josie Gonzales has lived in Winters for 9 years this time and had lived here for nineteen years then left and moved back. She owns her own salon, has had no convictions, and has no relatives working for the city. She states that she wants to be involved because our city needs help and is sad due to all the discord within our town. When asked how she would handle social media problems/comments she stated she would try to discuss with the person complaining one on one or would ask them to come to the next meeting and state their problem.

After deliberations, the council noted they would like whoever was not appointed to run for a seat in the upcoming election. Alderwoman Ursula Estrada made a motion to appoint Zan

Jamieson to council seat Place 1. Alderwoman Carolyn DeNigro seconded the motion, all in favor. Motion carried.
